GEORGETOWN, Texas - The streets of the Georgetown town square will be bustling this weekend for the 24th annual Red Poppy Festival.

Georgetown is one of the few places in the United States where red poppies grow naturally every spring.

In honor of the season, the city celebrates with a family-friendly weekend of activities, including live music, a car show, parade and much more.

The festival opens at 6 p.m. on Friday, April 28, with artisan booths, food and the popular local funk band, Dysfunkshun Junkshun, to bring on the dance party.

On Saturday, festival goers are encouraged to wear red for the parade at 10 a.m. Then it's time for the car show.
